Acknowledgement

I offer my thanks and gratitude to Dr. Asmita Das for accepting me as a student under her supervision and providing scientific support during my project and for giving me an opportunity to learn Homology Modeling and Docking Studies of Bcl2L10-Human Involving Cancer. I benefitted a lot from her constant supervision and encouragement during my project work. She has provided freedom to work independently that has helped me to learn various important aspects of research field and courage to work independently. Her ever-helping nature and friendly attitude made a great impetus in my mind. She has taken lots of pain and untiring efforts to guide me and I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Project. Dear Madam million thanks to you.

I would like to thank Dr N.V. Naidu, director of Global Institute of Bioinformatics, Hyderabad who gave me an opportunity to use softwares regarding my project.

I would like to thank all the researchers, scholars and scientist who made their research work available on net as going through it gave me great insight and knowledge about the subject in hand.

Lastly I express my indebtedness to my parents whose support, love and affection has been always motivates me to move ahead in life. I thank almighty GOD for His countless blessings.
