1,000 applicants for PhD at DTU

http://www.tribuneindia.com/2012/20120514/delhi.htm#7

New Delhi, May 13
Delhi Technological University (DTU) has received over 1,000 applications this year for its PhD programme which is up to 90 per cent higher than the last year. The rush for PhD has specially been for computer science and engineering and software engineering in which 239 applications have been received. While in electronics and communication programme, 190 applications have been received, 182 have applied for biotechnology.

Mechanical engineering has received 115 applications and in management 109. The list of the candidates shall be put on the university website www.dce.edu on May 21.