

Subscribing electronic database is the first major step taken by the DTU library in the digital era. At present the library has been giving access to 29 databases containing more than 5 thousand journals. To facilitate the users of the library to search these databases through single window the library started a trial access of Scopus on which a workshop was organized on 4th June 2015.

